

Walla Walla University School of Education and Psychology

Summer 2025 Courses

The School of Education and Psychology welcomes you to summer session at Walla Walla University! We offer courses that meet Adventist Certification requirements, courses toward a Master of Initial Teaching, and an MEd with four areas of concentration: Educational Leadership; Literacy Instruction; Special Education; Teaching and Learning; and the opportunity to explore an Individualized Area. This year we also offer a special 1-credit topics course focused on Assistive Technology for Learning Disabilities. We are looking forward to learning with you this summer session!

1-Credit: Assistive Technology for Learning Disabilities

Topics: Assistive Technology for Learning Disabilities (SPED 500; 1 credit) – This course introduces free and low-cost tools to enhance the functional capabilities of K-12 students with challenges in reading, writing, math, focus, and communication.

Note: Courses from the school of education and psychology, unless marked otherwise, are asynchronous.
